ut of the heart the mouth speaks, the feet dance, the hands shape, and the people rejoice. George Fox expresses its heart through building community, working together, and always looking for a chance to have fun.

Remember serve day when we all worked next to old and new friends: puling, digging, washing, scrubbing, moving, and painting in the community.

Remember moving in the first day and meeting your roommates, setting up the room with decorations, and doing things with a floor you might never have done otherwise.

Remember the homecoming week when our women's basketball team continued their perfect season.

Remember dancing at the 80s dance with the random costumes and crowded room or spinning endlessly at the Swing dance. Each memory is one beat of the heart of George Fox.

Take time to remember a few more heart beats...

Each student contributes to the heart of GFU. Whether it is through friendships, community involvement, or sharing personal talents every individual at Fox brings something unique and of high value.

Serve Day

Philippians 4:4-5

"Celebrate God all day, every day. I mean revel in Him! Make it clear as you can to all you meet that you're on their side, working with them and not against." At the Serve Day kick off this theme verse for the 10th annual Serve Day extravaganza. September 10th at 8:30 in the morning over 1,500 volunteers grabbed breakfast in the lawn then dispersed to over 70 work cites. By the end of the day the George Fox community served more than 100,000 hours of community service. Now that is a day's work for just one small community! Serve Day couldn't have been summed up any better than by coordinator Kayin Griffith who declared the day as "Much more than one day of service - it is an event that catapults us into a life-style of active giving. We want to be a university that seeks opportunities to help our community and world through stewardship of our ability to serve." After finishing the long day of service, the participants concluded with a celebration of food, games and fun.

Memories

"When one firsts thinks of Serve day they may think of sacrificing a day out of their life to help others who are in need of assistance, which is a noble cause. However, I have found that I possibly get more out of it than the people I am assisting; it such a blessing to know that you have lightened someone's burden and it is a blast to hang out with your friends for the day (without homework). It's also tons of fun to wear 95 cent trucker hats and hospital masks with your roommates and take ridiculous photos while paintin' up a cafeteria!"

-Joshua Smith

Residence Life

The Pulse of Campus

With nearly 75% of students living on campus, it would be an understatement to say that something is always going on! Resident life is a very happening part of the college experience. Floor activities, musical performances, academic conferences, and sporting events are just some of the options to get students together for a good time on campus. The RA's are always planning great times for their floors, and you can almost always find someone to just hang out with. All of these venues are wonderful ways to create fun and lasting memories while attending GFU.

Olivia Clark and Natalie Lorenz were 2 of the many freshman who lived on campus this year. Both young ladies enjoyed their time as roommates together.

Trips to the beach were another way that students made memories together. Whether just hanging out or playing a game of Frisbee, the beach was sure to be a big hit among students.

"There was this one time that I called a floor meeting, but I accidentally fell asleep and missed it. No one cared, the guys hung out for a half hour before they came to wake me. That's how awesome ED3 is this year."

-Kevin Smith RA of ED 3

Activities: what we do!

Never a dull moment

Pumpkin carving was a favorite activity among many of the students.

Many living areas on campus put on their own activities to allow everyone to have fun and get to know each other.

A multitude of activities were available during the '08-'09 school year. Both on and off campus, students had the opportunity to participate and enjoy many different activities. Although activities were not limited to those officially sponsored by ASC, those put on by the activities committee were among some of the favorites. Movie/popcorn nights, donut runs, and the midnight breakfast helped students to take a break from studies and get a bite to eat. The polar bear swim, bruin brawls, and games of Frisbee got everyone outside for some good old fashioned exercise and fresh air. Other activities included the Halloween trick or treat run, the gingerbread house building contest, the main event, and the many other opportunities that arose for students to hang out and have fun together.

A portion of the Res Life staff get together during one of the events on campus.

Halloween was the perfect opportunity to dress up. In this case, Sarah Palin and Hillary Clinton were well represented.

A good time was had by all who attended the main event.

The fall semester was filled with much leaf jumping.

Celebrate the old & new

Homecoming 09!

On February 20 - 21, George Fox University celebrated their homecoming events. Students celebrate with activities throughout the week, such as the Polar Bear Swim, Mr. Bruin, Go Big or Go Home, Tailgate Party, Bruin Brawl and a post game blow out dance. This week gives everyone an opportunity to really celebrate the community George Fox University has blessed old and new students with. Other highlights of this years events included a Winter Music Concert featuring the George Fox Symphonic Band and concert choir, basketball games, the Alumni Celebration Brunch, a young alumni gathering, the sports hall of fame induction dinner, two very special affinity reunions, and class reunions for the classes of 1939, 1949, 1969, 1979, 1984, 1989 and 1999. What also gained a spotlight during this weekend was the start to the women's basketball's perfect season of 25-0. This was definitely a homecoming to remember.

Gabriel Cortez and MotoKazu Ito (crowned Mr. Bruin of '09) dance their hearts away as they perform their routine as the half-time performance at the basketball game.

Anna Moreshead and Ethan Rhodes were crowned homecoming king and queen '09.

Webster is considering this picture to define groovy in the new illustrated dictionary.

This tradition is quickly picking up speed. To look at how the students can move on the dance floor one would never suspect that only ten years ago dancing was forbidden on campus. Now the university, sponsored by ASC puts on four annual dances beginning with the hoedown, the Decades dance, the Winter Swing and ends with the Spring Formal. Although most people avoid bumping and grinding it has been known to be somewhat awkward at the formal dances with the usual drama of who asked who and who didn't ask who. But if you find a good group and are not afraid of looking like a fool on the dance floor you can have fun. Lisa Mensonides wonders "Why am I always on this page?" And the answer is because she has set the standard for fashion and enthusiasm amongst the student body and is the go to person for awesome new moves. Now, enjoy the pictures since that is really what dances are about.

The track team is always well represented at Spring Formal, where they proudly demonstrate their awesome dance moves!

Performances

It's Showtime!!!

The wonderful thing about Fox is the numerous opportunities for students to put themselves out there and to show off their talents. Mr. Bruin and the Lip Sync stand out as the most anticipated events of the year. The 2009 Mr. Bruin Pageant raised $7,000 this year which is more than any other year and donated the money to the Shriners Hospitals for Children. At the end of the pageant, this year's crowned king was Motokazu Ito. In the lip sync the dances were well planned and fun with everything from heartfelt solos to 80s Workout Divas. However it was the Fresh Prince of Bell Air act which stole the show and every lady's heart and ran off with it in a yellow taxi cab. Throughout the year these performances remind us that through hard work and determination we can have people laugh with us not at us.

Willy Johnson busts his moves while looking stylish in his groovy hat. Although he did not claim the title Willy has three more years to perfect his dance.

Who could resist these fine gentlemen?

In Brief!

"Practices were an awesome time to hang out, get to know other guys, and dance our butts off! The Mother-Son portion of the evening was a lot of fun for me! My mom had a story to go with every answer, and people could see why I like to talk! We didn't start getting props ready for our talent until two days before, didn't practice 'til the day of, and pretty much winged it during the event! Not to mention the fact that our props somehow ended up all over the Quad! It was a great experience for me, and being a part of the Mr. Bruin Pageant will be one of my favorite memories from Fox!

Cross Culture

Live. Experience. Grow.

From around the globe international students are brought together to our small George Fox University campus. What a privilege we have to host students from countries such as China, Japan, and Korea. For Americans, freshman year in college can be challenging enough—let alone to think of foreign students immersing themselves into a completely different culture. The expectations rise for these incoming students as they are to master their second and sometimes third language of English, adjust to a new food diet, and participate in learning about a whole new religion. Congrong Ouyang says, "The most different thing about here is—everything!" Congrong says the language barrier has made making new American friends difficult, yet overcoming that and experiencing all that our campus has to offer has been great. She also says that through "experiencing Jesus Christ for the first time" she has learned so much about a religion that is not talked about in her home country—and meeting such outgoing friendly students here on campus has made her experience here to the fullest.

Taste. Encounter. Learn. See.

Clubs 'n Groups

Official & Unofficial

Ghosting has quickly become a much beloved activity. This form of chair ghosting as pictured above is just one variation of the game. Although President Baker was a favorite target for the ghosters any person walking across the Quad could be a target. So remember to always look behind you when you are walking because you never know who might be following.

Many clubs exist at George Fox in order to allow students with similar interests to join together for a good time. Although many of the clubs are officially recognized by ASC (such as the Bruin Heritage Society) others are not. However—these unofficial clubs and groups are no less enjoyed or taken part in by students. Many students find themselves joining together to celebrate shared likes and dislikes without officially declaring themselves a club. Be it official or unofficial—clubs are a central part of a George Fox student experience on and off campus.

Among the groups on campus, those of Res life are some of the most involved and influential.

Intramurals

Each sport brought unique challenges, such as the rush to take possession of the balls!

Just because the teams were termed intramural did not mean that the competitive spirit was lost!

For some students, "Intramural sports is a great time to be competitive in a friendly way," and for others, it's just a great time to be competitive. Intramural sports participants are gathered by an array of athletic backgrounds. Some athletes may have formerly played a sport in high school; others may still participate in regular sports for George Fox, and for the rest—who are trying sports for the very first time! Come one, come all! As for participant such as, freshman, Karina Sadalgo, played intramural volleyball in order to "revisit the middle-school-athleticism". But if you are the type that just can't hold back by competitive nature, intramural sports will have a category for you too. Winners in each sport played received champion t-shirts and take advantage of their bragging rights. Wherever you may fit in, intramural sports is a fun way to take your mind out of the books for the evening.

A cup of soup, a kind word, a prayer. In everything, the George Fox community strives to reflect their faith through ministering to each other and the outside community. Almost anywhere you look you see signs of this commitment: chapel, Bible studies, worship sessions, good conversations, service projects. These are just some of the numerous ways that GFU students chose to express the love of Christ and the joy of the Spirit to all those around them. Turn the page to catch glimpses of this in action...

Love & Restoration

Campus Retreats!

What a great time it is to get away for a weekend to engulf in God's creation and experience the beauty of fellowship with friends. Twice a year, the retreats committee creates this for the student body - one in the Fall and one in the Spring. This gives a chance for students to breathe before getting back into the daily routine of school. Courtney Sell, Retreats Coordinator gives her feedback, "As the Retreats Chaplain this year, my hope was that the fall and spring retreats would provide an opportunity for us to get away from the distractions and really experience restoration and renewal in our hearts and minds. I feel like the retreats this year really did provide that environment to experience God's shalom, both through relationships and through creation. I have been blessed to be in this position this year to plan these retreats with such a great committee." The themes this year were: Fall Retreat was titled "Restoration & Renewal" and the Spring Retreat was titled, "Love Moves."

Students who sacrificed their Christmas and Spring Break took leave for one week to set out on a journey of a lifetime, working with their hands and loving with their hearts. The love that was sent out continues to spread throughout the West Coast including locations such as Los Angeles, Utah, Seattle, Twin Rocks, Portland, Northern, and Eastern Washington, all to offer their love for Christ. "Live Out Love" is this year's theme—rooted in 1 John 4:7 it says, "Let us love one another, for love comes from God." Serve Trip, coordinator, Ryan, adds, "this is how God loves us".

Each year George Fox students look for a way to connect and give to the community of Newberg. A couple ways this is constantly done each year are the programs "Little Bruins" and "James Project". Little Bruins is a mentoring program where a college student is matched up with a K-8 student who just needs someone to spend time with. They then meet with them each week to hang out, play games and just talk. James Project is like an extension of the once a year all campus event, "Serve Day". Each Saturday students volunteer their time to help people around our community that need yard work or projects around their house done.

Students take a break from James Project to play with the horses.

Being Set Apart

Students lend a hand

On March 20-25, 2009, the Oregon/SW Washington Young Life Student Staff led by GFU professor, Steve Sherwood, held the annual Malibu Spring Break Discipleship Retreat located in Egmont, Canada. Around 150 college aged students took a roadtrip up to this beautiful camp residing on an inlet, to help clean the place up for kids to come and enjoy it during the summer. The tasks for cleaning up this camp included preparing the meals for the week, cleaning all the housing, cleaning the pool, raking the frisbee golf course, washing all the windows, burning debris, moving lumber, chopping wood, painting bunk beds, power washing the board walk and the list continues on. As the hard work done during the day came to a close, the evenings were relaxed as a 'club' was held which included worship, a skit involving a few games and a message given by Bob Davidson. It was a great week of fellowship, laughs, serving God and being refreshed in the beauty of His glorious creations.

A At George Fox University the students have a chance to show their strengths. Through sports, plays, and music the talent and diversity, the Bruins express school pride and talent. The success of Thoroughly Modern Milly, the fall musical, the nationally recognized women's basketball team, the surprising accomplishments of the volleyball team, and many other events are a great example of the strengths demonstrated. These activities are also a chance for students to build relationships and experiences. Though a solid education is what most of us are here for, it is the chance to demonstrate our strengths and encourage others in their own strengths that we find a sense of community, create lasting memories, and have a lot of fun. And in all things we strive to use our strengths to glorify God.

A class to remember

The George Fox University class of 2009 was one that set the standard for future classes. With a record number of students (over 600), this was a group that will be missed on campus. However, Fox's loss was the community's, country's and world's gain. This was a group of students who had the incredible ability to go out into the world and to truly make a difference. This was a group of individuals who will (we hope and pray) use their knowledge and skills to improve the lives of others while they live out and proclaim the Gospel to all. This is a group of people who have been blessed beyond all measure, and who had the ability to be used to bless others each and every day. This was a group who knew what hard work was, but also what it meant to relax. This was a group of men and women who were incredibly unique and different, but who also shared many commonalities with one another. This was....the class of 2009!!!

The six chemistry majors from the class of 2009 get together for one last photo together. This group grew quite close over the past four years, as they shared many classes together.

Academic Life

Developing coffee addictions

"Before college I had one coffee... now I can't get through a day without three or four cups" says senior Mary VanSteenberghe. Academic life, in addition to increasing dependency on caffeine, was one of the biggest strengths at George Fox University. The shared trials of long papers and unfathomable projects united the students as they strove to survive the academic rigor laid out by professors. The difficulty of the task only made the rewards of success that much richer. So drink deeply of the fount of coffee and books.

George Fox Broadway:

Alfred Hitchcock once said, "Drama is life with all the dull bits cut out." This reigns true for the George Fox University's theatre department—Never is there a dull moment in the lives of these thespians! On and off the stage, students recognize the "Players" for their lively spirits and outgoing acts. This year was made up of four main productions, beginning first with "Thoroughly Modern Millie,"—a "high-spirited musical comedy". Next at the box office was the performance done by the skillful University Players, called "The Other Shore". In the spring, the comedy, "The Triumph of Love"—an 18th-century romantic comedy. And lastly, the One-Act Festival displayed only the best student directors and designers onto the stage in three engaging One-Acts.

Reconstructing A Legacy

Faced with many changes, the Men and Women's Cross Country team took a new direction. Rome wasn't built in a day; and neither was this team. After the loss of many valuable team members and undergoing the transition to new coach, Jeff Larson, the team managed to maintain a small but close-knit family. Made up of small numbers, but dedicated workers, they were able to race their way to Hawaii. They learned to balance hard work and fun, allowing only positive growth to be on the horizon.

Mens Soccer

Dedication. Teamwork.

The men's soccer team had ten top returning players this year combined with ten freshman to add to the team of 32. They went out and grew closer as a team dedicated to working hard. Freshman forward Brennan Altringer came out and was the high scorer on the Bruins team. He was named All-Northwest Conference Second Team after scoring 20 goals in the 2008 season. When asked to sum up the season Junior David Rickey's answer was, " Even though we had a rough season this year, I feel like our team connected a lot better than the previous year, we had promising moments in some of the games and were able to keep the score close against tough opponents."

The Bruins show their team work as they line up to block a penalty shot.

Women's Soccer

Skill and Teamwork

Women's soccer was off to a great start this year with four consecutive wins. This was followed by a few difficult games that led to several close losses. The team was able to bounce back ending the season with a conference score of 8-8 and 12-8 total. 12-8 marks the most wins in a season during the past seven years under head coach Andy Herrington. Five girls were selected to receive All-Northwest Conference soccer honors for 2008. The girls to receive this award were Jenny McKinsey, Kirsten Cardwell, Nicole Akiu, Melissa Leighty, and Sally Page.

My favorite memory of the season was when we played at Pacific. We were down 1-3 with ten minutes to go in the second half. Then Kirsten scored a beautiful goal and we all just got fired up. After that we scored three more goals in six minutes to win 5-3. I think we shocked everyone, including ourselves!

- Molly Schaefer

Game At Pacific

The 90 minutes I spent on that field with those girls were the most fun and exciting of the entire season. It was a great example of what our team can do when we play for each other, and for the love of the game.

- Melissa Leighty

Memories...

I think we really connected well as a team. I really enjoyed playing with every one. And even though we could have done better it was still fun and i am happy I got to be a part of such a great group of girls.

Up & Down Season

And a few surprises...

A few surprises led the Lady Bruins to a roller coaster of a ride season starting off strong, but left to a disappointing ending. Junior Lyndsay Hovee described the season, “You could say that our season fell short of our expectations. Even though we lost a few tough ones the team never gave up and played hard all the way through to the last game, showing a tremendous amount of heart.” One of the highlights was when the Lady Bruins defeated Pacific Lutheran University at their home turf. This brought great excitement to the team since PLU was one of their biggest rivals in the conference. This season sure had it's ups and downs, but that did not take away the closeness of the team as Megan Cornelius stated, “we were a family.” The Lady Bruins finished 6-10 overall and graduated four seniors - Natalie Pickett, Jennifer Morrison, Ashley Sheller, and Ashlie Keimig.

Perseverance

The Bruin men worked hard to improve and grow as a team. It might have been the season they expected but there were some surprises and good times along the way. Senior, Brady Strutz went into the season with a knee injury and was able to play and the team was very excited to have him back and playing with them. The team took a trip out to Hawaii to get some more experience and sun and many of the guys would say this was one of the best memories of the season. The team loses a few seniors but will come back strong next year ready to play hard.

National Champs!

32-0 U-n-d-e-f-e-a-t-e-d!

The Lady Bruin's dominated this year by finishing off with a perfect season 32 - 0. They captured the hearts of their fans and took away the National Championship DIII title for the 2008-2009 season by defeating Michigan University (Mo.) 65-53 in the final round of playoffs. With a young team, 10 freshman, 3 juniors and only one senior graduating, they took over the NCAA Division III state championship title at the homecoming game and only a few games later, taking away the national title. Senior Kristen Shielee describes the season, "This season our team came together as a family and grew by leaps and bounds both on the court and off. We kept improving all season, even through our last games. At the beginning of the season we came up with the idea of shocking the nation with our lack of experience with ten freshman and no returning starters and I am pretty sure we accomplished our goal."

Lindsay Keener scored a game changing 3 pointer during the final game.

“Everyone got along with everyone. We seriously were like a huge family.”
- BB Gardner

GFU Cheer

Pump up the Crowds!

The George Fox Cheer Team worked hard this year to pump up the crowds for Fox basketball. Captain Kate Sheperdson, led the girls with many of her own choreographed routines. The girls worked well together and through the season perfected several stunts they had learned at an OSU cheer clinic. When asked about her favorite part of the season, sophomore Kami Kuhn said, "my favorite part of this season was towards the end when our girls team was undefeated and on their way to the championship games! The team was amazing, and the crowd was really excited! It was an honor to be a part of the GFU cheer team cheering on our amazing girls!"

Golf teams set goals

The Men and Women's golf teams both had an improving season. For Men's golf team, they finished eighth overall in the conference, just ahead of Lewis and Clark College. Freshman Matthew Fanning spoke on the team's season saying, "This being my first year on the team, it was a pretty good year compared to last year from what i hear. Our scores were noticeably lower but we still have a lot of room to improve." As the rest of the team commented on how the team improved throughout the year from Fall to Spring setting goals for the coming year.

The Women's team had another successful season. Coached by MaryJo McClosky, this group of dedicated women worked hard to achieve their potential, both on and off the green. With top half showings at every tournament, these women were known for their excellent playing skills.

Staying Strong

Bruin Baseball

The Bruin Baseball team completed their fourteenth straight winning season with an overall record of 36 and 11. They claimed the conference title and competed in the West Regional tournament where they fought back after an initial loss to win the next three games thus staving off double elimination. They fell short at the end but can look back on an extremely successful year. Seniors Matt Wyckoff and Bo Thunell both received All American recognition.

Swinging into Action

With an overall record of 5-32 the Women's Softball team improves on last year and looks with anticipation to a growing program and greater success. Last year the women's team was unable to finish due to injuries on the team. With a strong recruiting season the team welcomed five new players to the team. Junior, Chelsea Bradley was named to the NWC First Team for her excellent pitching during the year. Kerstyn Tsuruda, the only senior on this squad also received NWC recognition.

The new coaching staff also gave the lady bruins a boost with their enthusiasm and dedication to the program. Head coach Jessica Hollen states, "I believe that we can create a competitive, energetic team with a lot of heart and a great work ethic that will be a positive representation of George Fox University." The university is pleased to see this sport growing in success and to watch the softball lady bruins bonding as a team. GO BRUINS.

Finishing Strong

Bruins work hard

Although both the men and women's teams didn't finish high on the charts with the women finishing seventh overall and men finishing ninth overall, they did their best to finish the season strong. Senior Shanna Lesire comments on the outcome of the women's season, "We showed a lot of improvement throughout the season but lost a couple of key matches that we should've won that would've sent us to the conference tournament."

Men's Track

These talented athletes that made up the Men's Track and Field team of '09 proved their dedication and discipline by the outstanding performances and efforts in the final Championships of the season. These boys trained excessively to reach their goals, but not without some fun along the way. While proving themselves again and again by stealing the women's team Track Hog mascot, they continued to keep secure Big Boy from any girls capable of reaching it—perhaps this was because Big Boy was left at a Church somewhere in California never to be found or stolen again.

Run fast, turn left.
— Brent Crocker

Women's Track

The Women's Track and Field team of 2009 finished a solid season of hard work. Not only did they dedicate at least two hours every day on the track for training, but these athletes also prepared out of season. Preparation was done since the beginning of the school year, and all the way through the month of May. While most students packed up and headed home after finals, these athletes stuck around to continue training hard in hopes of qualifying for a trip to nationals. In addition to the incentive to stick around and train for nationals, but also perhaps to have a little fun along the way!

I could not have asked for anything more satisfying than finishing my senior year as conference champion in the triple jump!

Seniors of 2009

While made up of many individuals, the GFU class of 2009 will always share a special bond with one another. The unique traits of each 2009 senior contribute to what defines us as a group. Let us go out into the world and share what we have learned and who we are with all of our heart, strength, and mind.

This is OUR year...
